Experts with a passion for...

Dedicating 10% of its turnover each year to Research and Development, Nautipark is a hub of creative engineering for the nautical industry.

We bring together a multidisciplinary team, including marina developers, sailors, engineers and industrialists, to create innovative solutions in boat handling.

...design and safety

Boat handling is demanding work, so we demand the same of our engineers: to create safe and effective equipment for everyday use.

Improving your working conditions is important to us, so we design our products to be ergonomic and so easy-to-use that they can be operated a single person, with no need for extra tooling.
